YEGGMEN BLOW SAFE IN POSTOFFICE

Use Nitroglycerine at Catlett's, Va., Today

STEAL GARAGE TOOLS

Secure $125 In Cash, Stamps, and Money Order Blanks—Inspectors Investigate Robbery.

Yeggmans early this morning blew open the safe of the postoffice at Catlett's, Va., and secured about $125 in cash, nearly $100 worth of stamps and a quantity of money order blanks. The robbery was discovered when Postmaster J. B. Powers opened the office this morning.

Entrance to the building, a frame affair, was effected by prying open a window and after breaking the combination of the safe with a big sledge hammer the robbers then used nitroglycerine. The explosion did not arouse anyone in the neighborhood. The postoffice is in a frame building in the village, which is about thirty-five miles from Alexandria.

Postmaster Powers stated this morning that the robbers first broke into the garage adjoining the postoffice and after securing a number of tools used them in connection with their work of blowing open the safe. The postmaster is of the opinion that the robbers are the same men who two weeks ago broke into and robbed the bank at Nokesville, Va., he says that when the bank was robbed the burglars broke into a garage and obtained the tools to work with.

As soon as the robbery was discovered the postmaster at once telegraphed to Washington and this afternoon inspectors are at work on the case.

A telegram announcing the robbery was received here today by Chief of Police Goods.

OH! OH! CINDY MAKES BIG HIT

Appreciative Audience Sees First Performance in Opera House

ALL LOCAL TALENT

Will Be Repeated Tonight and Friday—Staged For Old Dominion Boat Club.

Playing to a comfortably filled house that thoroughly appreciated the efforts of the local talent, and which applauded in a manner that showed success on the part of the entertainers, the initial performance of "Oh, Oh, Cindy," given under the auspices of the Old Dominion Boat Club at the Opera House last evening, came to the front as a signal success and promised a bigger attendance and better rendition of the lines for tonight and tomorrow night.

The play is a comedy farce that switches during the presentation of the various scenes from the real to the unreal, from the world of today to fairyland and the audience found a large number of good hearty laughs as well as appreciative music and good acting on the part of the local talent.

The principal character parts in the play, that of Cinderella Van Alstyne, the Broadway chorus girl, and Terence O'Hooligan, stage manager of the Follies in the first half and the fairy godmother in the last half of the play, were portrayed in a manner that had the audience not known the principals personally, they would have been classed as professionals.

The part of Cindy was taken by Miss Louise Griffith who was the recipient of a huge bunch of crysantheums at the end of the first act and the part of O'Hooligan was a screen as portrayed by A. D. Rhodes. Mr. Rhodes injected enough comedy into the first act to keep the audience in rare good humor and each member of the cast contributed his or her share to the comedy sketches in the last half.

The songs of the chorus of young ladies were excellent and special mention must be made of the horde of children who appeared in the first act as fireflies and proms. Not a part of the play without interest and with bigger sales for tonight and tomorrow night than were features last evening, the play promises to draw the biggest attendance of any home talent production staged here in the past several months.

Miss Jennie Richards, who has been the accompanist at all the rehearsals, and has contributed wonderfully towards the success of the affair, was given a beautiful bouquet of roses by the boat club in appreciation of her untiring help.

POLE AND RUSS TO CEASE FIGHTING

Warsaw Reports Signing of Armistice Effective Tomorrow

AT WAR TWO YEARS

Victory Perched First on Banner of Poland, But Later Graced Red Colors

Warsaw, Oct. 7.—Dispatches from Riga say that hostilities between the Poles and Russian soviet forces will cease Friday under an armistice signed by the Polish and soviet peace delegates yesterday.

The cessation of hostilities between the Russian soviet and Polish forces will mark the close of the most serious warfare following the great war. The fighting between the Russians and Poles began in December, 1918, and reached an acute stage when the Poles made their first sweep eastward to Kiev, which they captured, followed by their gradual retreat until the soviet forces had again forced their way westward and were threatening Warsaw. The present negotiations were initiated about that time, first a Minsk and then at Riga, and have resulted in the armistice now announced, which is to bring the fighting to a halt on Friday.

Paris, Oct. 7.—Dispatches from Warsaw and Moscow today announced that an armistice between soviet Russia and Poland had been signed, according to the Havas agency.

Riga, Oct. 7.—The armistice boundary between Poland and soviet Russia will cut off Lithuania entirely from Russia, granting Poland a corridor to the sea.

The line as virtually agreed upon, beginning to the east of Dvinsk, runs south through Baranovitchi, Luninets and Sarny and virtually along the German line of 1915 to the Roumanian boundary.

The Russo-Polish armistice negotiations are being rushed to a speedy conclusion, but the Lithuanian-Polish situation seems meanwhile to have become more acute.

The Polish official statement received today reports severe fighting with attacking Lithuanian divisions near Orany, about midway between Grodno and Vilna, and adds: "It is stated that Lithuanian troops are fighting alongside Bolshevik troops."

In counter-attacks on the line of the River Merechanka, Polish divisions took several machine guns and prisoners, the statement says.

TEXAS WELCOMES UNITED VETERANS

Survivors of Confederacy Hold 30th Annual Reunion in Houston

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

South's History is Enacted in Pageant—Urges Building "Jefferson Davis Highway."

Houston, Texas, Oct. 7.—The thirty-third annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans was formally opened here today with two sessions, at which Governor W. P. Hobby, of Texas Mayor A. E. Amiesman, of Houston; representatives of Texas veterans and members of affiliated organizations extended a welcome to the survivors of the South's army in the War between the States.

Simultaneously with the sessions of the veterans, the Sons of Confederate Veterans and the Southern Confederate Memorial Association held business sessions, and several social functions were held for visiting women.

Tomorrow the election of officers for all three organizations will take place, that of the Sons of Veterans in the forenoon and of the veterans and the memorial association in the afternoon. It is expected, according to delegates to the sons' reunion, that N. B. Forest, commander-in-chief of the organization, will be re-elected without opposition.

A movement was on foot tonight to re-elect General K. M. Van Zandt, of Ft. Worth, Tex., commander-in-chief of the veterans, although he said he would not be a candidate. In the event he is not nominated, Arkansas delegates said General Virgil Y. Cooke, of Batesville, Ark., commander of the trans-Mississippi Department, will be placed in nomination. Friends of General Julian S. Carr of Durham, N. C., commander of the Department of the Army of North Virginia, stated that they would make an effort to bring about the election of General Carr if General Van Zandt is not re-elected.

Next year's reunion city also will be selected in the afternoon, Little Rock, Ark., and Savannah, Ga., having been mentioned as probable candidates for this honor.

At the meeting of the Sons of Veterans today speakers urged that the

AUSTIN ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

Jury at Manassas, Va., Deliberated Twenty-Five Minutes

SLAYER A CRIPPLE

Karl J. Austin Shot and Killed J. B. Davis, May 3—Wife Tells of Her Infatuation For Davis

Manassas, Va., Oct. 7.—A verdict of not guilty was returned yesterday by the jury which tried Karl J. Austin for the killing of J. B. Davis, who was shot on the street here May 3 by Austin, a cripple, because of his relations with Mrs. Austin.

The jury was out 25 minutes, and returned its verdict after Mrs. Austin had taken the stand and admitted conduct justifying her husband's suspicions that led to the tragedy.

The courtroom was crowded when the acquittal was announced. Austin, pale but composed, was embraced by Mrs. Margaret A. Glazier, his aged grandmother, and scores of persons pressed forward to congratulate him. Beside him were his wife and her sister, Mrs. Otto E. Gathmann, of Washington.

Austin resumed the stand when court reconvened yesterday morning, taking up the tread of his testimony interrupted yesterday when he demonstrated the plausibility of his earlier narrative of events by going in his wheel chair over the route he said had been followed by Davis and himself when they had a conversation which led to Davis' pledge to leave town.

On the night of the shooting, he testified, he met Davis on the street and asked him what his plans were in regard to leaving the city. Davis became very angry, and finally addressed him in vicious terms. He said he was going to give Austin a merciless beating, withdrew his hands from his pockets and advanced in a threatening manner.

Austin then drew his revolver, and fired two shots, he said. Davis fell to the street. Austin, in his wheel chair, watched him, expecting him to get up and attack him. When he realized that Davis was not going to get up, he said, he wheeled himself to the entrance of the Farmers Exchange, where he accosted George E. McDonald, saying he had shot Davis and some one should look after him. He then surrendered to the authorities.

The defendant was followed on the stand by his wife, Virginia Austin. She frankly admitted her misconduct, and said she had been infatuated with Davis for a year before her husband definitely learned of the fact. In his testimony he had disclosed suspicion had existed in his mind several months before the couple separated.

Davis visited her at her sister's home on Allison street in Washington on one occasion, she testified, and threatened to harm Austin, declaring that if he, Davis, could not have her, Austin never would.

While she was in Washington, Mrs. Austin testified, Davis sent her money for her support. This money, she said, was forwarded by her to her husband. Through the agency of a friend he in turn sent it back to Davis.

TWO GIVEN LIFE TERMS FOR MURDER

Adams and Mitchell Convicted in Sandy Springs Trial

PENDERGHAST FREED

Three Judges Who Gave Verdict Deliberated Two Hours, Murder and Robbery Occurred April 28.

Frederick, Md., Oct. 7.—Clarence Adams and John Mitchell, members of the gang which, on April 28 last, robbed the Sandy Spring bank and killed Francis H. Hallowell, an officer of the bank, were found guilty at 8 o'clock last night of murder in the first degree and sentenced to life imprisonment by the judges trying the case.

At the same time the Court rendered a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Joseph Thomas Penderghast, accused of being implicated in the robbery and murder.

Chief Judge Hammond Uner and Judges Glenn H. Worthington and Edward C. Peter, who were on the bench returned the verdict after deliberating about two hours. Judge Peter dissented in all of the three verdicts, holding for capital punishment.

Mitchell, alias Edward Cisco, is a former inmate of the Federal prison at Atlanta and was extradited from New York on an indictment charging him with highway robbery at the jewelry store of the James R. Armiger Co., 310 North Charles street, Baltimore, March 9. Three of Mitchell's alleged accomplices in the Armiger case are now serving long terms in prison. He has not been tried on the Armiger indictment.

Argument in the Penderghast case, the last trial, was concluded before a crowded courtroom at 5.25 o'clock. Immediately Chief Judge Uner announced that the Court would retire to deliberate upon a verdict.

About two hours later the judges returned, and amid an impressive stillness Judge Uner said the court had reached a verdict in each of the preceding cases as they were tried. The law of the cases, he said, was not discussed it was treated as being entirely settled. All participants in a criminal act such as had been committed were equally responsible; the question was whether the persons on trial were engaged in the robbery, he said.

In reference to Adams he said that two of the judges entertain no reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the accused. Judge Worthington was not able to free his mind of a reasonable doubt; Judge Peter, he said, was in favor of imposing the extreme penalty—hanging.

With one member of the court entertaining a reasonable doubt, he said, he could not impose the extreme penalty, and the sentence would be life imprisonment.

In the case of Mitchell, he said, the Court was unanimous. Had this case been tried alone and not connected with the other trials the verdict would have been the death penalty.

The court, he continued, was confronted with a most unusual situation in this case. He said he didn't feel justified in pronouncing the death sentence on a person tried with another for the same offense in which a life sentence had been pronounced.

In arriving at a verdict he said the court had been influenced by witnesses who testified, particularly by the

Filth and Famine Ravage Petrograd
Paris, Oct. 7.—A graphic eye-witness description of the fearful conditions existing at Petrograd is given by the Finnish Red Cross in an appeal just issued to the Red Cross societies of the world. It is accompanied by documents prepared by Professor Zeidler, formerly head of the Petrograd Red Cross, but now a refugee in Finland.

The documents, which reached the Paris bureau of the American Red Cross yesterday, tell the story of the agony of a dying city. Petrograd's present population, based on the food cards, is now 500,000 to 600,000 and the capital of the Czars is described as having shrunk to one-fourth of its pre-war size. The report says: "Death stalks on every side waiting for winter to aid in the grim work of mowing down the silent, hungry, sick, and dying thousands. With streets and houses choked with filth that is already spreading spotted and intermittent typhus, the cold weather will finish the task with pneumonia and abdominal typhus."

SCORES CHURCH OF TODAY

Swarthmore Professor Declares It Has But Little Meaning.
Boston, Oct. 7.—President Jesse H. Holmes, of the National Federation of Religious Liberals, in a paper read at the annual meeting of the federation yesterday, said that the Church of the present time had little meaning and no clear message. Mr.

Holmes, who is professor of the Swarthmore College, was unable to be present.

In his paper, which was read by the secretary, Professor Holmes said that the Church "maintains the phrase of the world idea, but it does not believe them and does not teach that the Church 'maintains the men to trust them'."

$375,000 In Unclaimed Liberty Bonds Held For Soldiers

New York, Oct. 6.—Speaking at a military reunion dinner here last night, Brig. Gen. H. M. Lord, chief of finances of the United States Army, said his department in Washington has 4,000 Liberty Bonds, representing $375,000, which belong to soldiers who cannot be found.

The bonds have been held for two years and carry coupons representing $30,000 in interest. The department, he said, had been unable to reach the owners at the addresses they had given and has appealed to the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus and other war organizations to help locate these men.

POLES AND RUSS TO CEASE FIGHTING

In regard to fighting with the Russians in other sectors, the statement announces that in the direction of Minsk, Polish cavalry divisions took the towns of Kladanov and Stankov, about 18 miles from Minsk. Farther south, a group of Polish troops fighting on the Slutsk took an armored train and 1000 prisoners. In the Volhynia and Podolia sectors the situation is reported unchanged.

According to present plans, the armistice between Soviet Russia and Poland and the preliminary peace treaty will be signed at a public plenary session of the peace conference next Friday, October 8.

It was said this morning at the headquarters of the Polish delegation that M. Joffe, head of the Russian mission, has accepted virtually as a whole the Polish peace draft based on the 11 points framed by the Rza delegation and made public at the beginning of the Riga conference. These, it is stated, have been approved at Warsaw, but have not yet been formally presented to the Soviet delegation.

There are understood to be 15 points in the new draft. The details of two of these points have not been worked out, although the points have been accepted in principle. The working out probably will be completed today.

The Poles have defined a boundary based on ethnographic lines which has been accepted, but not yet written in the draft by the secretariat.

Four Held For Quiz In Bomb Plot

New York, Oct. 7.—Four men, one of whom is alleged by the police to be a notorious anarchist, were arrested here late yesterday and will be questioned by Department of Justice agents in connection with the Wall street explosion.

The most important member of the quartet, according to the police, gave the name of Giacomo Caruso. He is charged with Vincenzo Ahato and Frank A. Ferro with having committed a hold-up recently in a Connecticut city. Witnesses have identified anarchists. The police say the prisoner also is a member of the "Bresci" group of radicals and a friend of Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman. They intimate that these organizations may have had some connection with the explosion in Wall street.

Officials state that Caruso also will be questioned regarding bombs which were sent through the mails last year to several prominent persons.

Science and Experience Make CORBY BREAD

Of course, we use the very best ingredients—and none others; that goes without saying—for CORBY BREAD is 100 per cent pure.

But that wouldn't have anything to do with that other important feature—nutrition.

Corby Bread is 100 per cent NUTRITIOUS because our research work has taught us that our mixing process develops ALL the gluten strength of the flour. Our patented dough-mixers are responsible for the maximum of that strength-building element.

Therefore when you eat CORBY BREAD you are getting all the nourishment possible.

Visit our plant in Alexandria and see Corby Bread in the making. Delivered fresh from our ovens to your grocer or delicatessen.

BERLIN STREET CARS STOP

Lights Also Go Out When Electrical Workers Suddenly Strike.

Berlin, Oct. 7.—Berlin was without street car service last night and a large portion of the downtown section was dark, as a result of a strike of the electrical workers at the Moabit car plant. The walkout came so suddenly that many surface line cars remained stalled on the tracks, the passengers being forced to alight and walk home.

No disturbances had been reported up to a late hour. The strike was due to a dispute over working hours.

officials of the bank, in their identification of the traversers. It was a most wanton brutal and premeditated homicide and the kind of case that deserved capital punishment, he said. The fact that the court in the Adams trial had not been able to agree precluded the death sentence, he declared.

In regard to Penderghast, Judge Umer said, while he had been implicated in the homicide and had been identified by reputable witnesses as one of the men in the automobile which conveyed the robbers to the bank, yet the opportunity of the witnesses for identifying him was not convincing.

Reference was then made to the positive testimony of the witnesses for the defense that he was at home in Atlantic City on the day of the robbery, and the verdict of the court would be not guilty.

The State contended that Penderghast remained in the automobile ready to escape and did not enter the bank. None of the bank officials identified him.

Fourteen witnesses positively identified him as being in the automobile and 10, including his mother, sister and niece, swore that he was at home in Atlantic City the day of the robbery.

Jere J. Santry, Baltimore, and William M. Storm, this city, made forcible closing arguments for the accused.

State's Attorney Thomas Dawson, Montgomery county, made a brilliant closing address. He was assisted by State's Attorney Aaron R. Anders, this city.

The object of this suit is to obtain for complainant an absolute divorce from the bonds of matrimony from the defendant on the grounds of wilful and voluntary desertion and abandonment for more than three years prior to the institution of this suit, and for general relief.

It appearing by an affidavit filed in this cause that the defendant Lottie Workman Hoffman is a non-resident of this State: It is Ordered, That said defendant appear here within ten days after due publication of this order, and do what is necessary to protect her interest in this suit.

How To Get and Keep Husband Is Told To Girls By Pastor

Altoona, Oct. 6.—"Any young woman with the aid of a little powder and paint, a little cotton and padding, a pair of goo-goo eyes and a winning smile ought to be able to get a man," said Rev. A. L. Bixler, pastor of Fairview Methodist Church, in explaining "How to Get a Husband and Keep Him," a companion sermon to "How to get a Wife." But to get a real husband will be difficult, and without a real husband marriage will not be all milk and honey. Among the other suggestions he offered to women were these:

"A man can't live on love alone. He must have biscuit that won't smash his toe if it falls upon it."
"Old or young, rich or poor, marry the man you love."
"Don't act after marriage as though you had married for a bank account and meal ticket."
"Don't put on an old wrapper and leave the most of your hair on the bureau and utterly neglect your person."
"Don't do all the talking in the home or when yourself and husband are in the presence of others."

"Don't nag and complain when your husband returns from the day's work. He will remember that it is his lodge night."
"Don't spend extended vacations away from home. The world is full of attractive women with whom your husband may have to associate."
"Don't forget where the family Bible is."

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Municipal Judge Stewart rolled the dice with "Thursday" Smiddy, negro crap shooter, for a fine in the Chicago Avenue Court yesterday, and Smiddy lost $1 and costs.

DANGEROUS CONDITION RESULT OF DELAY

When Nature is under strain or effected by some disorder, warning signals are given that should receive prompt attention. If not heeded to, weakness or disease follow, which is ended only by death.

Maybe you don't feel bad enough for medicine now but you soon will if you don't help yourself. If your system didn't need help you wouldn't be troubled with indigestion, liver or stomach troubles, nervousness, sick headaches or other ailments.

These things will not always pass away. The string shortens. What you need is a good tonic now to set you on your feet again. Dr. Munyon's Paw-Paw Tonic will soon chase away your complains and bring back the old "pep." It tones the nerves, stimulates digestion and restores the organs to healthy normal action.

Munyon's Paw-Paw Tonic is just the remedy needed to satisfy that craving
the weakened body has for stimulants.
It supplies that aid and stops the desire which leads ailing bodies to have recourse to habit-forming drugs and drinks.
Don't trust these dangerous agents.
